

Rocky Mountain Hardware is a unique line of door, cabinet, kitchen and bath accessories and custom hardware of the highest quality. Hand made and sand cast of solid bronze, the simple lines, diverse textures and natural patinas are very reminiscent of old-world cast hardware.

Over time oxidation occurs naturally on bronze, producing a broad variety of colors that change with age. Through the patina process, Rocky Mountain speeds up this normal evolution to capture some of those beautiful hues. Their patinas are applied by hand and meant to age gracefully like the finish of a fine bronze statue. There are no powder coatings, paints or lacquers involved in their patina process. The patina process on silica bronze produces brown tones which are available in light, medium, dark and rust. White bronze produces a pewter look, in your choice of light, medium and dark.

Rocky Mountain Hardware incorporates only the highest quality spring latches and mortise lock,s and our unique spring-assisted escutcheons assure that lever sag will never be a problem. All of their components are made from the very finest corrosion resistant materials available, allowing use in the severest of climates, from the high desert to the seaside. Each order is custom made and packaged per project. Great care and consideration have been taken to ensure performance and longevity.

Rocky Mountain Hardware is available in all standard functions recognized by the hardware industry including the European multi-point lock system used by most major window manufacturers on their patio doors, thus permitting the same door hardware to be used on all doors throughout the project.

Note: All Rocky Mountain Hardware is made to order.
